

Please consider donating to Green Fire Productions to support LORDS OF NATURE outreach and education to schools, university science and environmental policy departments, and wildlife management policy makers.

Green Fire Productions <www.greenfireproductions.org>, the producer of LORDS OF NATURE, is a non-profit independent media organization. For 20 years our award-winning films have been informing and inspiring audiences - and influencing the opinions and actions of resource managers and decision makers.

Your contribution to Green Fire will provide free DVDs along with lesson plans to teachers and professors who want to use the film in their classes as well as free DVDs and information packets to targeted wildlife management policy makers. All contributions are fully tax-deductible.
